Art Unit: 1743

Double Patenting

1. Claims 1-27 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-38 of copending Application No. 09/296,602. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: both are directed to methods and apparatus for the detection of the presence of an analyte using a sorbent, non-aqueous solvent and a micro capillary tube.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 1743

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 2 and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Tyihak et al.

Tyihak et al. teach a system with means for obtaining a solution containing an analyte, a capillary tube for receiving and depositing the solution on a chromatography surface. A detector reagent is used for the subsequent analysis of the separated analyte.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1743

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. Claims 1,3-11 and 17-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyihak et al.

See Tyihak et al supra.

Tyihak et al are silent to the specifically claimed solvents, capillary devices, plates, chromatographic mediums and indicators.

The court decided In re Boesch (205 USPQ 215) that optimization of a result effective variable is ordinarily within the skill of the art. Result effective variables are those that are well known and are interchangeable because they have expected/predictable results.

Applicants acknowledge in their specification all of the materials use in the invention are well known, commercially available and conventionally used interchangeably in the chromatography environment.

In the absence of a showing of unexpected results, it would have been within the skill of the art to modify Tyihak et al. In view of Applicants specification and use the disclosed well known solvents, capillary devices, plates, chromatographic mediums and indicators as optimization of result effective variables to achieve their known and expected chromatographic results.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ashley et al. teach a chromatographic method and apparatus where the sample is applied by a needle.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Lyle A. Alexander at telephone number (703) 308-3893.
